Cat Bombs

We have lost our Tinee Bit, a four months old Siamese.

Too many tomatoes were stored in our basement and the inability to get them canned resulted in an invasion of fruit flies. In desperation we bought an insecticide bomb marked "Non-Toxic." We discarded an alternate because it contained DDT.

Regardless of the sparing use of the bomb, we had three very ill Siamese kits and lost our Tinee Bit. The others are still very ill. They could neither breathe nor swallow. The poison attacked the respiratory and digestive tracts over their entire body. They retched and choked pitifully. Temperatures went to 105 and 106 degrees.

So cat lovers beware, regardless of claims. Apparently "bug bombs" can be called "cat bombs" as well.

Color Interested

For the benefit of some of the newer breeders like myself, I wish some of your writers like Rita Swenson and Florence Kemmer would give us an article on the subject of color breeding. By this I mean, what colors are produced in cats when two different colored cats are mated.

CAT OWNERS ACTIVE SENDING FOOD TO BRITAIN

For nearly a year, certain understanding and appreciative members of the American Cat Fancy have been carrying on plans to send packages of cat food and other feline supplies to needy exhibitors and breeders in England. The project is a sort of Feline C.A.R.E.

It is interersting to note that many American breeders and exhibitors hold a closeness for England in a feline way, because of the excellent stock that has been imported from there ever since the birth of the American Cat Fancy more than fifty years ago, and because so many of the outstanding English cats of the past are the progeny of our finest animals in America today. It is therefore a means of showing appreciation and interest by Americans for the English stock which has been so badly curtailed and depleted because of the ravages of the past war. The Fancy in England is very slowly recovering from the shock.

The idea for the Feline C.A.R.E. must be given Mrs. Cicely C. Mellor of Felinia fame, who, as early as last November a year ago outlined her plan to CATS, to be known as CAT CARTONS, UNLIMITED. Mrs. Mellor sold the idea to the officials of the Cat Fanciers Federation and as a result, collections of canned horse meat and powdered milk products have been finding their way to England, and eventually to the dinner plates of England's undernourished pussies.

Mrs. Mellor has been working her plan through Mr. Sydney France, publisher of the English cat magazine, Cats and Kittens. According to Mr. France, the ration for cat stock in England is exceedingly small and the regular supply of horse meat is "practically nil!"

Not to be outdone by the C.F.F.-Mellor CAT CARTONS UNLIMITED, the Cat Fanciers Association have launched a similar project under the direction of Mr. J. B. Howlett. According to the October issue of the C.F.A. Bulletin, affiliated clubs have been responding unhesitantly to the cause. These include The Golden Gate Club, Colorado Cat Fanciers, Cotton States Cat Club, Blue Cat Society of America, Norfolk Cat Club, Twin City Cat Fanciers, Empire Cat Club and the C.F.A. headquarters. Extracts from letters of thanks reprinted in the Bulletin prove how terrifically appreciative the English recipients are.

From Cleveland and the typewriter of Mr. Charles McGrew comes a formal letter outlining similar plans for still another Feline C.A.R.E. The project has been launched by the recently organized A.B.C. Club (All Breed Cat Club), an affiliate of the American Cat Association. We turn you over to Mr. McGrew who asks CATS to enlist the aid of putting the "ADOPT A CAT" program before the cat owners of America.

"The membership of this Club is packing small boxes of canned foods, canned supplements, vitamins, toys, etc., and is sending same to the hardest hit (English) breeders for their cats. The need is far too great for any one club, regardless of its size and bank account to cover adequately. We have several lists of names of the neediest breeders in England, who would be most appreciative of a gift box occassionally to help them feed their animals. We will be happy to furnish the names and addresses to those who desire to help us in our efforts.

"We would like to see each club in the U. S. and Canada adopt one breeder and send that breeder a box of food as often as possible . . . this need is far greater than we in America can imagine. The English breeders have the same problems with their cats as we had here during the war, except that their rationing is still less than half what ours was at its lowest ebb. Consequently, their need is double that of our past lean years."

Thus you have the picture what the American Cat Fancier is doing today.

CATS believes these projects are magnificent and warrant the careful study and thought of each of its readers.

Since there are three separate groups conducting a single worthwhile and typical American job, we herewith present the names and addresses of the contacts of this threeway Feline C.A.R.E. Each group has the full endorsement of CATS. However we urge you to write only those named herewith.

Transfer

With this issue CATS transfers to its permanent offices in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. The rumored move of this publication has been in existence for some time. Therefore, all subscribers are urged to contact CATS at the new temporary Post Office Box 928, Pittsburgh 22, Pa. During the next month adjustment to our new home will probably delay replies to letters and inquiries just as it has during the last six weeks. Please be patient with us.

Effective with the January issue CATS makes its bow to the general public on the newsstands in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Northern West Virginia, serviced through a Pittsburgh distributor. With each issue following the distribution will be expanded in every direction until complete coverage is realized. Thus, CATS embarks on a new era which should help interest many more in cat care, breeding, understanding, appreciation and showmanship of our four-footed friends.

Award

In our efforts to preserve the memory of the late Gertrude E. Taylor whom CATS feels has contributed more to the establishment and growth of the Cat Fancy in America than any other person in the last forty years, the Government Bonds to be presented hereafter to the owners of the All-American Cat of the Year and the All-American Cat of the Year Opposite Sex will be known as the Gertrude E. Taylor Memorial Awards.

These Memorials will be instituted in 1949.

THE CHURCH CAT

FAMOUS FELINE HONORED THROUGHOUT WORLD FOR MOTHER QUALITIES, NOW DEAD

One of England's great cats died on September 28. She was just an ordinary cat minus pedigree papers, rosettes and ribbons. It is doubtful if she ever heard of the famed Crystal Palace and certainly she was never entered in any championship exhibitions.

However, she is probably more widely known than any of the blue-blooded felines of today. Her name was Faith and she lived with her many, many litters at St. Paul's Church in Watling Street.

The famous London Times published her obituary, calling her "a London stray." The Associated Press and other news wire services carried stories about her passing and the unusual animal ceremony that followed as she lay at peace. Time Magazine followed through with an unusual tribute.

Twelve years ago Faith came to live in the rectory of St. Augustine's. Three times she was turned away by the vergers. But Faith was persistent and on her fourth visit to establish a home, the Rector, Henry Ross, interceded.

"The cat must stay," he said, "She has chosen our church and she must remain."

Faith remained at St. Augustine's, a silent tribute to God from the animal kingdom of this earth. During the services, Faith sat in quiet dignity at the feet of the Rector.

Then on September 6, 1940 at the height of the Nazis' blitz, Faith moved her single kitten at that time from the rectory upstairs to a recess in the basement of the Church. She took up the mothering of the coal-black kitten in a room set aside for storing music. On the third day after the change of nursery by Faith, bombs burst on the rectory of St. Augustine's.

FAITH
England's Greatest War Cat

According to the plaque that appears at the Church today, in honor of Faith, "roofs and masonry exploded. Four floors fell through in front of Faith; fire, water and ruin were all around her. Yet she stayed calm and steadfast and waited for help."

But at the time the firemen who fought the flames after the explosion had given up Faith and her kitten for dead. But Rector Ross was not convinced. He pawed his way over the wreckage and smoldering rubbish and finally made his way to the basement. There in the ruins sat Faith serenely nursing her kitten and "singing" the Rector exclaimed, "such a song of praise and thanksgiving as I had ever heard."

The story of Faith was a story of the "steadfast courage in the Battle of Britain," and in due course Faith was formally recognized by citations from London's People's Dispensary for Sick Animals.

A few years later the well known English writer of cat books, Michael Joseph, sent to Hettie Gray Baker of New York, a magazine story containing a picture of Faith. Miss Baker forwarded a photostat of the article to the Greenwich Village Humane League of New York, and Faith was recognized by this great institution with a special citation.

But the honors did not change Faith who continued to be a church cat and sat as always at the Rector's feet when he conducted services.

The black kitten of Faith's is named Panda and now is quartered at the Herne Hill Nursing School in London.

When Faith died, a special service was held at the Holy Trinity Church on the eve of the Feast of St. Francis, the Patron Saint of the animals. Children of the community were invited to attend and bring their pets.

An Associated Press dispatch appeared extensively in the American newspapers and reported the extraordinary occasion for such piety as follows:

"The animals came to church here today, and they sat very solemnly as they heard a Church of England clergyman say there was a very good chance they would go to heaven. They will have to be good of course.

"Children of the community were invited to bring their pets. So, well behaved and decorous, among the worshippers were:

"Dozens of cats and kittens, some pretty with starched ribbons.

"A tiddler in a jar—a tiddler being an English version of a sunfish.

"Ducks, chickens and guinea pigs.

"A lamb with fleece only slightly soiled, accompanied by eight-year-old Mary Hyde.

"Dogs, of course, including a bull mastiff and a tiny Pekinese.

"A white mouse, which made some of the little girls nervous, was brought by six-year-old Philip Parsons.

"The 20 horses, brushed sleek for the occasion, were sized up by the head usher, who came to the doleful decision that they were too big for the pews. So they had to wait outside.

"The Rev. L. J. B. Snell then told of the life of St. Francis and the work of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

"'Animals and birds are a part of God's creation,' he told the beaming children, 'and there is nothing contrary to our Christian religion in the belief that our pets will live hereafter.

"'There are animals and birds in Heaven as well as human beings and angels.'

"There were some growls and squeals, but no unseemly incidents. It turned out that the bull mastiff who lunged at a basket of kittens wanted to lick them, not bite them."

BLACK MALE PERSIAN WINS IN ITALIAN SHOW

A Black Male Persian, Int. Ch. Pierrot du Bosquet, owned by Mme. Gay of Berne, Switzerland was Best Cat at a show staged at San Pellegrino, Italy on July 25.

The event was staged by the Italian Cat Society and attracted 60 Persians and 31 Siamese. Entries were received from Paris, Geneva, Lusanne, Berne, Zurich as well as from different cities in Italy.

It is expected that the exhibition will result in the reorganization and establishment of exhibitions in Milan and Turin, where outstanding shows were held prior to the War.

Western Selects Judge

Mrs. E. F. Hamaker of Indianapolis has been selected as the judge of the Western Cat Club show to be held in Los Angeles Jan. 15-16, according to an announcement by Mrs. Zelma V. Philips. The Siamese Cat Society of California and the Silver Fanciers, which will hold supporting specialty events with this all breed show, have not announced judges as yet.

Mary B. Warfel-Smith

Mrs. Mary B. Warfel-Smith, outstanding C.F.A. judge and nationally famous breeder of Red and Black long hair cats, died at her home in Pitman, N. J., Thursday, November 4 after a lingering illness. She had been ill for several months but was scheduled to judge for a number of exhibitions this winter.

She was deeply religious and was an outstanding choir singer, belonging to the Mennonite church.

A member of the Board of the Cat Fanciers' Association, Mrs. Warfel-Smith was the breeder and owner of the famous Ch. Eiderdown Wa-Vermilyen, Red female long hair which won All Eastern titles in 1947 and 1948.

Cat Sports New Curl

A black and white long hair cat owned by Mrs. Ida Ciamma of Boston, today is sporting a permanent curl in its tail. Puss crawled into the family washing machine and was whipped around in the suds until its anguished yowls brought help. The cat, somewhat dazed after its terrific spin, turned up with a curl to its tail and Mrs. Ciamma says:

"I can't get it straightened out again!"

Michigan Kits Wealthy

"Ma-Cat" and Yellow Boy a pair of pet cats owned by the late Miss Minnie Elizabeth Barron of St. Joseph, Mich., have been bequeathed $5,687 under the terms of the will. The will directed the money to be paid to her sister and to be used to assure the cats a "happy and prosperous old age."

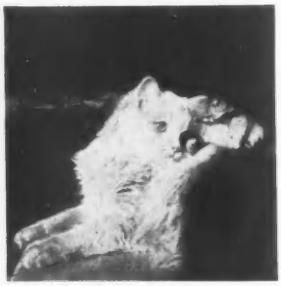
Mrs. Horace O. Reed of Argos, Ind., published a display ad in the July CATS which she illustrated with the unusual photo of her lovely Cream female long hair, Spoon River Seraph. Harold Faller of New York City, after seeing the picture, was inspired to write and dedicate a poem to the beautiful Seraph.



There's Spoon River Seraph, aristocrat,
A feline of fair and high degree!
Persian quite regal and Mrs. Reed's cat,
And one with great inherent dignity.
Nonchalance with beauty that endears,
Spoon River Seraph knows catdom's fame;
But much rather would be scratched behind the ears,
And live a quiet life at home, the same!

To be Spoon River Seraph, the feline version
Of Beauty, all grace, from tail to nose!
To live the life of a well-born Persian,
And have a name like poetry, not prose!

So does a cat live heavenly, indeed
In Argos, Indiana, with Mrs. Reed!

Amazing Relief for TORTURED Dogs and Cats

SKIN ITCH: Don't be too quick to blame fleas, mange, diet, if pets itch—scratch continually. 2 to 1 it's "FUNGITCH," fungus infection discovered by noted veterinarian, Dr A. C. Merrick. Much like athlete's foot, it itches painfully—soon develops dandruff-like scales or mouldy-smelling brownish-edged sores around tail, on paws, back or underbody. Dr. Merrick's SULFODENE applied externally stops the itching in minutes—clears up scales and sores in a few days. Generous treatment $1.00 in stores or order direct—address below

EAR CANKER: If pet repeatedly rubs ear on floor, etc., shakes head or holds it in a stiff, unnatural way, examine ears carefully. If hot—sensitive—musty-smelling, you know it's ear canker (otitis). Apply Dr. Merrick's EAR CANKER Creme at once. Simply squeeze Creme from handy metal tube into the affected ear. Creme contains wonder-drug Tyrothricin. Works swiftly to relieve pain, remove causes and promote healing of ear canker. Don't let your pet suffer another day. Only $1.00 per tube at stores or order direct from BROOKFIELD LABORATORIES, Dept. N-368 BROOKFIELD, ILL.

LOS ANGELES ANIMAL CONTROL LAW BRINGS UNSEEN REPERCUSSIONS

A Los Angeles City Animal Control Ordinance which became effective on July 1, had practically sounded the death-knell of the continued growth of the Cat Fancy in this Pacific Coast Metropolis.

The Ordinance (No. 92876) requires a permit with an annual fee of $10 for anyone owning four or more cats. The ordinance ties up closely with a zoning regulation which if literally enforced could make it practically impossible for a cat fancier and breeder to harbor more than three cats and to live on his property if he should obtain a cattery license.

The zoning ordinance, effective since June 18, 1946, requires that a cattery must comply with certain building restrictions and must be located only in certain Los Angeles areas. This building code requires fireproof construction of catteries in many of zones permitted. Cat fanciers point out that an initial cost in excess of $1,000 may be required for the fireproofing alone. Aside from this, they maintain, there are the added fees for zoning, building permits, electricity and plumbing, plus business and cattery licenses and sales taxes.

Cat owners throughout Los Angeles were becoming panicky and many are disposing of their stock because of the law. The wholesale retrenchment of pedigree stock may result in the cancellation of several Pacific Coast exhibitions.

On October 18, Ralph Morris, CATS magazine's Southern California representative and the Los Angeles Chairman of National Cat Week, called a special meeting of cat fanciers representing all clubs in the area regardless of affiliation, to discuss the matter of petitioning for a revision of the Animal Control ordinance.

Among the well known fanciers in attendance were Carolyn Alig, Frances Campbell, Lois Candland, V. E. Dodson, Carrie and Lucy Clingan, Ethel Garson, Jessie Hazlett, Ada Herschberger, Ann and John Konkel, Ann Manley, Jerry MacIntyre, Bess Morse, Ida Reeves, Earl and Zelma Phillips. Alice Smith, Jessie and Harry Stark, Pearl Stettler, Charles Victor, Ina Morris and others. Mr. Morris acted as chairman assisted by Miss Candland as minutes secretary. V. E. Dodson, a practicing attorney, carefully explained the legal interpretations of the ordinances and the possibilities involved if strictly enforced. A committee composed of Mr. Morris, Mr. Philips and Mr. Dodson was chosen to confer with the Animal Control Board. This conference was held October 26 at the City Hall, with a more or less nebular result.

The total outcome to date has been an opinion that the existing law is believed to be ill-advised in some of its points; but it has other good provisions, although strict enforcement is neither practical nor desirable in most instances.

While definite legal changes were not brought about, there was a better understanding developed between the law enforcement agencies and members of the cat fancy, plus an assurance that there was no further reason to "see ghosts" or to continue in a panicky state, as enforcement was to be directed at flagrant violators under the intent of the law, rather than to work hardships on the cat fancy itself.

The chief concern of the cat fancy seems to be the element of contagion of such ordinances, other cities following set examples. It was pointed out that cat fanciers in other cities should be alert as to the possibilities of similar ordinances and spring into immediate action if and when these become obnoxious or threatening. It is suggested that cat organizations in other cities where such legislation is contemplated should write to Ralph Morris, 1040 Exposition Blvd., Los Angeles 7, Calif., who may be in a position to offer helpful advice.

A permanent committee has been decided upon in the Los Angeles area to be composed of one member from each local cat club or specialty club, regardless of affiliation, to meet periodically in an effort to carry on a program of education about cats, also to be vigilant in any matters affecting the cat fancy as a whole. A widespread radio and newspaper publicity campaign for cat welfare is under way. Arrangements have been made for a lecture series to be held at the field houses of the City Playgrounds, at various clubs and gatherings, to further the public interest in cats, with speakers chosen from the local cat fancy. The hope is that such an educational program may more speedily accomplish what legislation has struggled with so long. It is a long range program, but results should be gratifying. Members of the Animal Control Board and other humane organizations seem to be heartily in accord, as are civic officials. The movement has many ramifications, among which is a possibility of reduction of juvenile delinquency thru helping youngsters to

THE CHRISTMAS KITTEN

By RITA SWENSON

"Rather than a dog, I would choose a cat. It has for me the manners essential to social relations. At first, in its early youth, it possesses all the graces, suppleness, unexpectedness by which the most exacting, artistic fancy can be amused! It is adroit, it always knows where it is. Prudent unto caution, it goes everywhere, it examines without soiling, breaking nothing; it is in itself a warmth and a caress; it has not a snout, but a mouth—and what a mouth! It is discreet and of fastidious cleanliness—it cannot be enslaved. It is a dignified, proud, disdainful animal that hides its love affairs in the shadows. It defies advances, tolerates no insults, abandons the house in which it is not treated according to its merits. In short, truly an aristocrat in type and origin."

These famous words of Alexandre Dumas, quoted and requoted through the years yet never losing flavor, express with an uncanny exactitude sentiments duplicated by cat lovers the world over. Thus, it is not entirely surprising that when the joyous holiday season rolls 'round and thoughts of gift giving fill the air, ones choice for that very especial person ultimately falls upon a kitten. Surely not even the charlatans of old could conjure up a more satisfying expression of love, a more enduring remembrance of The Day. The gift of a kitten, be it Siamese, Manx, or Persian, is a gift without parallel.

However, like most gifts of a highly specialized nature, one should take into consideration the likes and dislikes of the person for whom the gift is intended. Gifts should first of all be appropriate and this is especially true when a kitten is expected to exchange hands. A few discreet inquiries in advance of purchase will make the difference between a delighted recipient and a nonplussed one. Lovely as they are, kittens should never be considered as gifts unless the future owner has the time, means and inclination to accept this claim upon his life.

Then there are those who decide to give THEMSELVES a kitten for Christmas. Some are prompted by a genuine love for cats, others by a cute picture in a magazine, and still others by the thought that a showy cat will enhance the decor of the home. No matter what actually prompts the purchase, if one feels he can accept the cat into his heart and home, attending religiously to its wants, he should develop into a satisfactory master. But never buy a kitten intending to bring it out to be exclaimed over at odd intervals, confining it in a cage the rest of the time. Never buy a kitten if its little lapses in behavior cannot be forgiven. And never, never buy a kitten expecting to enslave it. Cats are not dog-like either in devotion or mannerisms and simply cannot be whipped into submission. They must be accepted, if at all, for what they are, not for what one hopes to make of them.

Introducing a kitten to a new home requires patience, understanding and a certain amount of fortitude. A kitten that has had brothers and sisters to play with during the day, and sleep with at night, will find a new home without companionship of his own kind a lonesome and bewildering place. During this adjustment period, sympathetic attention to his wants and frequent petting will ease his apprehensions and in the process assure him that the fate that has befallen him isn't so bad after all. A young kitten will adapt itself to a new routine much more readily than an older kitten or young adult, but if one is not accustomed to caring for young kittens, or if there are children in the home, the older kitten is recommended. There is nothing quite so enchanting as a ten weeks old kitten but these are definitely not for the inexperienced or for children.

When bringing a kitten into a new home, do not immediately give him the run of the house. So much strange territory will simply unnerve him. Permit him to run one room, preferably the kitchen, before permitting him the freedom of other rooms. The kitten may be shy and nervous at first but will soon settle down to an investigation of its new quarters. Only when it is thoroughly familiar with the general plan will it evince an interest in food and drink.

Mrs. C. F. Rotter of Minneapolis, who has a busy season ahead officiating at shows in St. Paul, Denver, Atlanta, and Oakland, Calif., is one of America's popular judges.

A United Press report from Piermont, N. H., states than an unnamed cat has established some sort of a record by producing 101 kittens since June 19, 1939.

The safest rule to follow in feeding a newly acquired kitten is to adhere strictly to the schedule supplied by the breeder. Sudden changes in diet are responsible for many cases of upset stomach, adding not only to the distress of the kitten, but the owner as well. In cases where no feeding schedule is supplied, one should remember that a kitten is of the carnivorous family, and act accordingly. A meal of finely chopped beef should readily be assimilated for it is the natural food for cats.

Add to the beef a pinch of calcium, a few drops of cod liver oil and a fourth teaspoonful of yeast powder—these will help the kitten develop into a strong, heavy boned, healthy tissued specimen. Two good beef meals a day, plus one of evaporated milk diluted one half with water, should prove sufficient. A little Gerber's strained oatmeal may be added to the milk if desired. Food for kittens should always be warmed in advance of serving. After a meal of icy food a kitten will either throw up or suffer stomach and bowel distress.

The matter of the sanitary tray is deserving of attention. Most kittens seem to prefer sand but since this is something of a nuisance in the home, one may prefer to substitute newspaper. However, a kitten that is used to sand will not readily change to paper so one has to introduce the new material gradually. The bottom of the tray should be covered with a piece of folded newspaper and the sand placed on top. Each day a little less sand should be used until it is eliminated entirely. By that time the kitten will accept the paper without question.

One should provide a bed for the new kitten. This should be tucked away in some quiet corner where the kitten will be able to relax with no fear of getting stepped on. At night it is a good policy to either confine the kit in a cage or close all windows in the room. Kittens are notorious for sleeping in drafts or open windows and one has to forestall such action.

Always remember that a kitten brings to the home warmth and companionship that knows no equal. The love he gives his master is not only pleasing but flattering, for the cat does not bestow his attentions promiscuously. He will deeply resent unfair treatment but treat him RIGHT and you have a friend for life.

BOOK REVIEW:

A FELINE ROVER BOY

KING TUT AND HIS FRIENDS. By John Hosford Hickey and Patricia Beach. 238 pp. New York: Harper & Brothers. $2.75.

This is the story of a Silver Tabby Long Hair who is really from out of this world.

King Tut exemplifies all that is good in a cat, in fact, he is a bit too righteous and overly smart at times and must be classed as a feline Rover Boy. But King Tut is a "remarkable" cat, the publishers are quick to inform you in the subtitle.

He possesses all the traits of the famous cats of history whose unusual abilities are always included when one decides to write another cat book. Tut has all the attributes of Gauthier's Madam Theophile; Dumas' Mysouff and others. He talks just like Gauthier's famed Eponine, and is equally adept as Napoleon, the famous cat of Baltimore who could foretell rain and shine, as described by Ida M. Mellen in her "Science and Mystery of the Cat."

The King of course has his love affairs for the most part provided by Sally, a Blue Long Hair "ranch cat." And of course he has his weekly fights with renegade bands of cats, snarling dogs and poisonous snakes. It is always King Tut to the rescue of kittens and puppies proving for once that a cat can have more than nine lives.

But you will enjoy Tut and his friends and will approve of him when he darts out of the music room during a performance of Bach. Yes, Tut goes after your heart on page 1 and captures it completely by the end of Chapter 1.

The book is by the authors of Know Your Cat.

PLAYING SANTA CLAUS—This is a clever picture of Franks' Marco Polo, Seal Point Siamese, owned by Mrs. Daniel I. Clancy of Chinook, Washington. That red shiny ball is really giving him some trouble. Needless to say he scampered out of the room when Mrs. Clancy caught him in the act with camera and flash-bulb. Latest report is that Marco drives a car except for shifting of gears and manipulating pedals.

At Wenatchee, Wash., recently, a dog chased a cat up a power pole. It crossed all the way to the cross arms and stepped over an insulator and on a 110,000-volt feeder line. The cat was killed.

The feeder short-circuted and snapped and fell across the trolley line of the Great Northern Railroad line which supplies power for the trains. Traffic was halted for two hours.

WHY A CAT FALLS ON ITS FEET

A cat which falls or springs from a height, great or small, generally manages to fall on its feet. This wonderful feat is made possible by the way the muscles of the cat are arranged and the quickness of the cat's instinct for bringing them into play. No matter how a cat is dropped, it is usually able to turn over in the air and so twist itself that its feet come in contact with the ground.

Scientists say that if men could master the secret of the cat, they also would be able to alight on their feet when falling. There is no reason why our muscles should not be as effective as the cat's Many of us have seen men dive head foremost from a trapeze, turn somersaults in the air, and land safely. Others vault over the backs of horses, whirling around in midair as they go, yet dropping safely on their feet.

The secret seems to be the quick working of the mind; at any rate, scientists tell us that the ordinary man would have power to do as the cat does if he made up his mind quickly enough.

The ability of the cat to alight feet first depends on the healthy condition of its balancing sense, the sense governed by the six little fluid-bearing canals, three in each ear, which enable us to balance ourselves. However, if they played any special part in the wonderful feat of the cat, we should expect to find these balancing canals very highly developed; but they are not. They do not appear to be so perfect in the cat as in man, and neither man nor cat has them so beautifully organized as the bird. We cannot say that there is any particular quality in the cat's balancing sense alone to account for its exceptional ability. There must be something else.

The power seems to arise from ages and ages of need to exercise this special art. Nature has enabled the cat to make special use of its balancing powers in a particular direction. We do not mean to say that every cat could always fall from a height and land safely on its feet; but in general a cat has this ability.

enjoy the hobby of scientific cat breeding, many fine social contacts are possible as well, but above all, the program will interest new-found friends for the cat fancy which can only mean progress.

To the surprise of many, the sudden turn of events on the Los Angeles front seems to be toward a contest of Education vs. Legislation. Which should win?

First to have cats as household pets were the Egyptians, according to the World Book Encyclopedia. Our word "pussy" comes from the name, "Pascht," the Egyptian goddess who had the head of a cat.

Pat, a pet cat of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Church of Ontario, Calif., turned into a harvest hand this year, picking up peaches from the ground and carrying them to her masters. If no fruit was available on the ground, Pat climbed the tree and picked them.

CAT TAILS . .

by Billie Bancroft

Associate Editor

There comes today, a Cat Tale from 114 Shrewsbury Road, Oxton, Birkenhead, Cheshire, England. It concerns the charming Siamese queen named Sinh, owned by Mrs. B. Margaret Browne, who claims that Sinh is just too intelligent for words. She dislikes strangers and if a stranger should enter the back door—she will fly at them, snarling. Now Sinh has two other members of the Feline family, Tony Lumpkin, (her son) and Quito. She is utterly devoted to each of them and demands the allegiance due a matriarch. When she is having her kittens, she insists on having them both as an admiring audience, if necessary using force and pulling them there by the scruff of their necks or a hind leg. Both Tony and Quito, (who are neuters) are excellent nursemaids and one or the other is always available and ready to take over Sinh's babies when she leaves her bed for food and exercise. Lucky Mrs. Browne to have two 'kitten sitters' in her immediate family!

I was in Le Perroquet, (near Sutton Place, New York City) last Tuesday afternoon. In walked a very beautiful platinum blond, on a leash there followed an unusually large Siamese with the most gorgeous blue eyes I have ever seen. They both sat down at the bar, each having separate seats. The Siamese sat on his hunkers with his front paws on the bar. The blond casually ordered—'the usual,' which each of them seemed to enjoy. The usual was two Creme de Menthes, only the Siamese had his sans de Menthe. Certainly I spoke to them, and gave the young lady a copy of CATS MAGAZINE which I had in my brief-case. She thanked me and introduced Chiang who eyed me in a very speculative manner. The young lady was Miss Soyna DiBacca of Sutton Place, who tells me that Siamese are the most wonderful of all pets to have in an apartment house. Chiang kept looking at me and Miss DiBacca told me that he expected me to buy him a drink, that most people he was introduced to did. (Yes—I came across too).

Out in Utah, near the Skull Valley Indian Reservation, in the small town of St. John, lives Betsy Calhoun. Betsy has a large blue eyed Persian who makes a career of having kittens and showing them to every visitor to the Calhoun home. Should Betsy forget to mention White Dutchess and her family the next step will be from Dutchess herself. After waiting a reasonable length of time and the guests do not show up at her box to admire her family, Dutchess will carry each baby into the living room and deposit it on the coffee table. She usually has five in a litter, so the guests wait with anticipation until the last bit of fluff has been deposited and then they are admired to her heart's content—this seems to satisfy her and she will resent vigorously any attempt to remove herself and family back to Cat Headquarters so to prevent a scene she is usually allowed to remain until the guests are gone.

HOUSING SHORTAGE? — Favorite spot for the kittens of Emily Burgess of Los Angeles is this pair of brogues. Kits say shoes are comfortable places to sleep.

Wallace Erd writes from Pickens County, South Carolina, to tell me he has a cat that should be in Hollywood, he is that photogenic. (The small town Wallace lives in is called Nine Times, what a wonderful name for a Cat city). Wallace is a camera bug—by saving for many years—(he happens to be fourteen years old), he has been able to secure a Speed Graflex. Calico Bill is a Blue Cream Persian and dearly loves to pose. Wallace's father is good at golf and has collected some several cups which he keeps in a very beautiful rose wood cabinet. Now Wallace posed Calico Bill atop the cabinet surrounded by silver cups—sent it to a large metropolitan newspaper. It was accepted and run in the Sunday issue. Letters began to pour in from all over the country, asking for Bill's pedigree and where had he been shown and were there any of his kittens for sale and at what price. The Erd family were dumbfounded. Wallace was elated but his father came in for a lot of ragging from his golf cronies. The letters were all addressed to Wallace Erd, and only the family knew that Wally junior had neglected to add "Jr." to his name when he sent his entry to the newspaper.

Danny Deever is a black Persian belonging to Hiram Griffen, Bonne Homme County, Tabor, South Dakota. Danny has a punching-bag suspended under a

THE Breeders' Digest

This Department for Breeders and Exhibitors returns after an absence of several months. Breeder-Exhibitors are urged to forward news and announcements to the Editor, The Breeders' Digest, CATS, for inclusion in later issues.

Mrs. Blanche Warren of Bellflower, Calif., reports that she has just purchased Light Wing's Reina of Mar Vista (AW-48), Brown Tabby female from Mrs. Phil Jacobs of Monrovia, Calif., and is now adding other Persians of outstanding bloodlines to her famed Casa Gatos cattery.

Mrs. Lucile Pelton of Hubbard, Ohio considers Friday the Thirteenth a lucky day. This is because last August her Ch. Rosegate's Pat Hand II (AM-48), son of the late Dbl. Ch. Daybreak of Plumfield (AA-47), Cream male, has sired four black males plus a tortie, the first ever to be bred at Wycliffe. Dam is the colorbred black, Ebonetta of West Allis. The tortie is slated for carrying the Wycliffe banner in the show rings during the next several years. Keep an eye on this youngster.

I am told that CATS is "quietly" gathering the material for a long series of America's Greatest Cats asking leading exhibitors and breeders throughout the country to nominate their own choice and ten other outstanding cats, other than of their own breeding. The consensus of opinion will determine the lineup, which should make for an eagerly awaited feature and a companion tieup with the forthcoming History of the American Cat Fancy which I am told is due to break in these pages in the not too distant future. (I hope I am not fired for revealing this little scoop which I obtained in Chicago last week).

The following received from Mrs. H. Earl Nack: "Will you please thank the many friends of Bright Eyes for the letters I have received since her passing as a result of her obituary in CATS magazine. I have received over a hundred letters, cards and wires, some from people I have never met, who had followed her show career from the start."

Mrs. Sara Jane Slippey of Altoona, Pa., has announced that she has purchased the Red Tabby female, Red Princess of Timberbrook from Mrs. Billie Bancroft. This Tabby is a sister of a kit which recently is learning the Dutch language at the Netherland Embassy in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Mabel S. Erdman of Lebanon, Pa., reports that the Red Tabby kit son of Tr. Ch. Thunderbolt arrived safely by air in eight hours to Mrs. Amjaro P. Juijano of Santurce, Puerto Rico. The Erdman kit is said to be the first pedigree Persian to arrive on the Island. Alice Holmes of North Haledon, N. J., has recently purchased a pair of Seal Point Siamese from Mrs. Fred Wilson of East Orange, N. J. thru CATS magazine. These are the male Chu Chang II of Sunset Ridge, male; and Daryngton Elusive Ladye, female.

Ina and Ralph Morris of Los Angeles report that the Tribune Cattery is gaining circulation rapidly with the recent acquisition of a Blue-Crean named "Scoop" and a Cream male called "First Edition." Watch for them in the Pacific exhibitions this year.

Mrs. Ruth E. Humphrey of Sayre, Pa., has purchased Wycliffe's Cinderella, colorbred Blue female, a daughter of Gr. Ch. Woodchurch Periwinkle ex Ch. Wimauma Chuette O'White Birch; also Maryland Favorite Pennee, Blue Cream sired by Pearl Harbor Ace ex Fourpaws Grisette of Maryland. By the time you read this she will also have Nani Lei Marcellette, chin female from Mrs. Mildred Joseph of Hayward, Calif. as a mate for Nani Lei Sir Gayette, Shaded Silver male. The air trip by Marcellette from California took only 38 hours.

Mrs. Nicolia Slobodian of Louisville, Ky., has an unusually fine Siamese female that would very easily be a "cut-up" in the South and Midwest this year. She is Panda Van DeSpree of Shawnee sired by Larchwood Clover of the famed Prestwick lines, out of Bestaf Cristie who in turn is from Wansfell Ajax of Abingdon and Odersfelt stock. Bestaf is owned by the Baroness L. M. deWestenbury. Panda was brought to America by Dr. John W. Taylor, President of the University of Kentucky who purchased her in Berlin. Recently she was bred to Tremunity Montgomery, famed sire of the two-time All-American Seal male, Dbl. Ch. Knight's Peter Piper owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Knight, of Oswego, Ore.

small table. He touches it very lightly and it bounces away, then he taps it a bit harder and faster until finally you see Danny punching a rhythmic tattoo in perfect timing. The cat stands on his hind legs and boxes at a very fast tempo. He most often does this when he considers he is not receiving the personal attention due him. Hiram has had an offer to put Danny Deever in an animal act but turned it down. He says he loves Danny too much to make him work at something that is just play for him now.

Nine Lives

A three-footed cat, Tiny, owned by Mrs. R. G. Windham of Wichita, Kansas is mothering her four kittens and five terrier pups as well. The two different litters were born 12 hours apart. Tiny and the pup's mother each wanted to care for both litters.

"They fought it out," explains Mrs. Windham. "Tiny won and now she is nursing all nine."

YOU, TOO, WILL LIKE LABCO!

just as much as MRS. NECOLIA SLOBODIAN of 119 North 46th Street, Louisville, Kentucky

Mrs. Slobodian is President of the Kentucky Cat Club and is shown here with her Seal Point Siamese Tremunith Montgomery (left) and Kyaac of Valhalla (right), the sire and dam of Dbl. Ch. Knight's Peter Piper, the 1947 and 1948 All-American Seal Point Siamese Male.

Mrs. Slobodian writes: "I have found Labco Pet Shampoo keeps my cats' coats in fine condition. It has proved to be entirely satisfactory for either breed of all ages. I have never had anything but the best results with Labco, and with each set of instructions given with a kitten going to a new home, Labco is its recommended life-time Shampoo.

"I was once told by a customer that she gave a newly purchased Siamese kitten from my Shawnee Cattery a bath with ordinary soap, and he voiced his dislike. And the next bath given with his accustomed Labco Pet Shampoo left him with purrs of contentment."
